4. [   ]- JMM) Called Dorothy Fosdick, Permanent Sub-committee on Investigations staff, to say that we had considered her request for sweeps and security checks on Senator Jackson's office but felt that in view of political concern over the Agency's involvement in domestic matters of any kind, and the precedent this would establish, we have to say no, referring them to the FBI as the appropriate agency for such tasks.

I also told Miss Fosdick that we had no evidence that the Soviets were shipping American grain to other foreign nations, although Soviet transatlantic vessels had been known, because of the current congestion in Soviet ports, to discharge grain in certain European ports for subsequent shipment on smaller coastal vessels to the USSR.
